William James was an American psychologist and philosopher, founder of pragmatism. In his philosophical main aspects are two - radical empiricism and pragmatism. The main assertion of radical empiricism is that sensory perception covers part of what is given to us in immediate experience. In Essays in radical empiricism James makes a drastic effort to resolve the dualism. In these essays, the philosopher shows his vision of metaphysics. Radical empiricism is not a form of modern epistemology, but postmodern epistemology that rejects both modern alternatives in exchange for a new type of empiricism. The human experience is a fundamental feature of the world. Of sensory, emotional and religious to scientific and rational. The concepts, ideas and theories are determined by their practical consequences, and in truth means success and usefulness of their application experience. This empiricism takes us into a new, - clean world, based on experience. James tried to defend their views through their essays, the purpose of which is to show precisely clean and neutral experience: the problem in the relationship, the nature of truth, the philosophical side of things. Each of us direct first hand experience of the world outside of us that goes beyond what is given to us through the senses. Pure experience abundance, diversity, potentiality, from which it arises and update things. Essays of James should be read carefully to understand, because otherwise his whole work on their writing will be futile. Reading his Essays in radical empiricism we learn that our every theory must be empirically justified as there not something that is beyond experience. The present volume is an attempt to carry out...
